Before QE&D

Before joining QE&D, Mohammed Nuhaid felt unsure about his knowledge of QA tools and lacked the confidence to apply structured quality techniques in his work. He was looking for a practical, career-aligned course that could help him grow professionally and personally.

“I lacked confidence and QA tools knowledge, which QE&D helped me with.”

Why Six Sigma

For Nuhaid, the decision to take the Six Sigma Green Belt course was clear—it directly aligned with his current role and aspirations. He was eager to upgrade his skillset in a way that would support both his current work and future ambitions.

“It aligned with my current role, and I was eager to learn.”

Learning Experience at QE&D

What stood out most for Nuhaid was the personalized attention and initiative taken by his trainer, Winston. The sessions weren't just theoretical—they were practical, focused, and empowering. Among all the tools he explored, SIPOC left a lasting impact for its simplicity and power in understanding process inputs and outputs.

“Winston's initiative and training made the experience truly effective.”

Outcome: Confidence & Career Growth

Although Nuhaid has not yet applied Six Sigma tools in live projects, the learning helped him significantly in one key area: confidence. Shortly after earning his Green Belt, he successfully transitioned into a new role at Cognizant as a Process Specialist.

“The course helped me boost my confidence—and I cracked a new job right after certification.”

Testimonials
